NO. 71

Completely Exonerated.

A case of much local interest was disposed of by the circuit court last Thursday. James P. Crow and W. T. Dodd, of McKinney, as partners, had been the agents in the years 1892 and 1893 for Aultman, Miller & Co., manufacturers of agricultural implements. They had in 1893 fully settled their accounts as such, but after that in the summer of 1893, the company's general agent, one Waterman, of Cincinnati, had addressed a circular letter to a number of citizens of Lincoln and Casey counties, charging Crow and Dodd, with misappropriating and withholding notes and property, belonging to said Aultman, Miller & Co. Crow and Dodd brought suit for this libelous statement and on last Thursday, the defendants confessed judgment as follows:

Lincoln circuit court, J. P. Crow & Co., plaintiff, against Aultman, Miller & Co., defendants, judgment. Came the defendant Aultman, Miller & Co., and leave to withdraw their answer heretofore filed in this action, which motion was granted and thereupon the said answer of defendants was withdrawn from the files. The defendants being present in court by attorney and refusing and failing to answer further or in any wise controvert the allegations of plaintiff's petition, the said allegations are taken for confessed by said defendants and by agreement of parties it is now adjudged that the plaintiff James P. Crow and Wm. Dodd do recover of the defendants Aultman, Miller & Co. in the way of damages, the sum of $500 and their costs herein expended. The judgment being satisfied in full by the defendants, this cause is now stricken from this court's docket.

The petition of Crow and Dodd, after reciting Waterman's charge contained in the circular letter denounced it as malicious, libelous and false and the defendant's confession of record is that this denunciation was well grounded and true. This being a complete vindication of Crow and Dodd, there was nothing left to contend about, except the smaller question of money damage. Crow being unavoidably absent in Wisconsin and both he and Dodd being chiefly concerned about the vindication of their honor they generously consented to let the defendants off with the confession above recited and with the payment of the $500 and all the costs of the action.

THE People's Banner of Pontotoc, Miss., speaks in the highest terms of a literary entertainment given by the Chickasaw College in which the Misses Summers, late of the college here took parts. Miss Olivia Summers recited, "The Famine," and "a few moments only were necessary to establish the fact that she was mistress of her profession, and as well modulated tones and nicely articulated sentences followed each other in masterly style, eyes sought eyes in mute attestation of approval, while a breathless stillness added to the interest manifested. A murmur of admiration arose from the audience as Miss Jennie Summers came forward and sang in a sweet, full voice that sweetest of songs, "Evangeline." But one song did not satisfy them, so, in response to an encore, she sang "Thou Art An Angel," in her most graceful and winning style. Miss Jennie also recited and soon had the audience amused and enthusiastic over her inimitable rendition of "The Jealous Wife."

The election of a republican House of Representatives this fall would reopen and extend for two years the period of uncertainty as to what the tariff is to be, and this, followed by a republican victory in 1896, would mean the repeal of the present tariff law and another long period of tariff agitation before the McKinley bill could be re-enacted or another high tariff bill could be agreed upon and passed. Vote for McCrory.

—Senator Taber, of Colorado, was keeping a little boarding house in Colorado, when he was forced to take an interest in a mine for a board bill, and gradually became twice a millionaire, but the tables turned and now he is bankrupt.

—The republicans are resorting to the wholesale use of money in the hope of defeating Hon. W. L. Wilson in West Virginia. Mr. Wilson closed his campaign with full confidence in a democratic victory.

—A three-year-old daughter of Lewis McGuire, living near Worthville, was shot and instantly killed by her 10-year-old brother, Tuesday. He was playing with an old shot-gun, and shot her head off.

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Webster, Fla., says he cured a case of diarrhoea of long standing in six hours, with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to his sufferer. Such cures are not unusual with the remedy. In most instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief. It can always be depended upon. When reduced with water it is pleasant to take.

For sale by Dr. S. G. Hocker, druggist, Stanford.

W. A. McGuire, a well-known citizen of McKeith, O., is of the opinion that there is nothing as good as a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound over the seat of pain. It affords prompt and permanent relief and if used in time will often prevent a cold from resulting in a grippe. He has himself tried without a second thought. He used other remedies without his benefit and then concluded to try the children's benefit and to his delight it soon effected a permanent cure.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—Five red boars for sale. J. E. Bruce, Stanford.

—A. H. Moore, of Fayette, has 34 living foals by Director.

—John Anderson bought of Alex Anderson a small bunch of three-year-old cattle at $1c.

—E. T. Pence sold to E. P. Woods six feeders at $1c to $1.50 and bought of him two yearlings at $1c.

—John and Homer Baughman sold to Tip & Harry Bruce 100 barrels of corn at $1.85 in the field.—Advocate.

—Thirty three have trotted in 2:10 or better, and all but two—Palo Alto, 2:08½ and Pamlico, 2:10, are living.

—Online, 2:04, pacing, has made his last appearance on the track. He will be kept in the stud hereafter.

—For sale, cheap, a fine six-year-old horse, sound and a good worker, for $70. Wm. Chesterfield, Kingville.

—Mary Marshall, 2:08½, is the fastest pacing mare. Out of 47 pacers that have records of 2:10 or better, only four are mares.

—Extensive stockyards are to be established in El Paso, Tex., for distribution of Mexican cattle through the United States.

—Louisiana has the largest farm in the United States. It is 100 miles one way and 25 miles the other. The fencing alone cost $50,000.

—Twenty four young trotters were sold at public auction at Reading, Pa., at from $31 to $191. A prize-winning stallion brought only $110.

—Shadeland Onward, 2:18½, is the youngest sire of three in the 2:10 list, all pacers. They are Online, 2:04; Ontonian, 2:07½ and Fred K., 2:09½.

—Woods & Lynn shipped to Cincinnati Saturday, 200 hogs averaging 200 pounds, which they bought of various parties in this country at $1c to 4c.

—Hugh McAlmon has just refused an offer of $4,500 for Isinglass, the great English racehorse and full brother to Lexington, recently imported to California.

—The movement of cotton into sight during the month of October was larger than for any month in the history of the trade, the total being 2,110,709 bales.

—A writer in the Owensboro Messenger, who is reputed to be well posted in such matters, claims that the tobacco crop in that section of the State is a failure.

—H. L. Asher has bought the Highland Stock Farm of 670 acres in Fayette county for $75,000 and W. C. France & Son have bought the Elm Hill Stock Farm in same county for $44,000.

—Judge W. E. Varnon has name his fine thoroughbred colt with which he expects to win the Kentucky futurity, Dick Warren. He thinks his colt will give the rest of the starters as bad a defeat as that gentleman gave a certain prohibition preacher in a race for representative some years ago.

—Ornithologists do not tell us that the chicken is the most wonderful of birds, yet the fact remains that, in proportion to weight, it is far more important to the human race than any other animal. The census places the egg product of 1889 at nearly 10,000,000,000, valued at $163,441,350.

—Long talked of match races between giants of the turf are as a general thing disappointing. Since the "dead heat" at Nashville between Robert J. and John R. Gentry, lovers of horses have been anxious for another opportunity of testing their speed. The two kings met at Philadelphia Friday and the race was no exception to the rule. Robert J. won the first heat in the slow time of 2:08 and the second heat was worse, Gentry being unable to push him out in better than 2:12. The owner of the defeated horse very sensibly withdrew him. At the same track the same day the good mare Phoebe Wilkes was defeated by Azote and Nightingale. Best time 2:10.

Educational Notes.

Owing to field work among the districts for the past two or three months, we have not been able to give attention to many other things besides. It is a pleasure to state, however, that the attendance is better this year than for the past four. If the beginning of our second term is an omen of what is to be, then indeed we feel encouraged. Nearly all school houses now have fairly comfortable seats and desks to accommodate all who may attend. Maps, charts and other helps which should have been put in our schools a quarter of a century ago, are in most schools. Thanks are mainly due, however, to the trustees of those districts, who, it seems are now waking up to the great necessities demanded by the children and the demands of educational progressiveness.

Teachers as a rule (only a few exceptions now) are doing better work than ever before. That is well. The State pays for the work and the trustees and patrons should demand it. Those who a few years ago, made teaching only a stepping stone to other fields of labor have found that the demand for that kind of teaching is on the wane. That teaching is a profession is no longer a mooted question. That teachers are to a certain extent born, as is the orator, is perhaps also true, yet it is a profession in which one may, by diligent study and close observation, acquire much proficiency. Tact in the impartation of what one knows is one of the happy faculties of the successful teacher. I wish to say in connection herewith that as Nov. 9th is Arbor day and a holiday, it is supposed that all true teachers will observe the day as is intended it should be observed, by planting such trees as may be necessary for shade, comfort and ornament. Let it not be said of a single teacher in Lincoln county that the day was worse than lost by failing to perform that pleasant duty. I shall send to all teachers next week the remaining blanks necessary for monthly and term report.

—A telegraph line now traverses the Gobi Desert, 3,000 miles in length.

—The Singer Sewing Machine building in Louisville burned. Loss $50,000.

—Rochester, Mo., a town of 2,000 population, has neither a white nor black republican living in the town limits. That must be a heaven on earth.

—In spite of the desperate fight made by the populists, Kolbites and republicans in Alabama, the democrats close the campaign with the best of reasons for expecting to-day a victory that shall put an end to the Kolb faction and to the populists as well.

—The longevity of Queen Victoria is something to be remarked in these times. Her son, the Prince of Wales, who is heir to the English throne, is older than was Czar Alexander when he died, a few days ago. The new Czar is about the age of the younger sons of Wales.

—Mahone is into Virginia politics again with his coat off. He is bossing around just as vigorously as ever, and the democrats are getting into a good fighting temper about it. The Virginia democrats have no sort of use for the little boss, and his activity will send to the polis thousands of them who otherwise might have staid away.

—The cry of Tammany has become "Anything to elect Hill." The opinion is entertained by many observers of the situation in New York that, pursuant to a perfect understanding between Senator Hill and Mr. Grant, the Tammany candidate for Mayor, the latter is to be sacrificed if necessary to save the State ticket and the Assembly.

—John Stealey, the populist candidate for Congress in the First district of West Virginia, has uniformed his family of nine children, each of whom is a musician, supplied them with instruments and in a band wagon they travel from place to place and furnish the music while the old man does the talking and hustles for votes. This unique manner of canvassing insures the speaker a good audience but it is not so certain it will prove a vote catcher.

Cure for Headache.

As a remedy for all forms of headache Electric Biters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure in the majority of cases. It is a specific for headache, yields to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Biters cures by giving the desired tone to the bowels and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it first. Large bottles only 50 cents at A. R. Penny's Drug Store.

For Headache.

Buckwheat Arnica Salve.

We authorize our advertised druggist to sell you Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, upon this condition: If you are afflicted with a Cough, Cold or any disease, Throat or Chest trouble, take this remedy according to directions, giving it a fair trial and experience no benefit, you may return the bottle and have your money refunded. We could not make this offer if we did not know that Dr. King's New Discovery could be relied upon. It never disappoints. Trial bottles free at A. R. Penny's Drug Store. Large size 50c and $1.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The total missionary gifts of Christendom for 1893 are estimated at $14,713,627.

—As the result of a revival at Owensboro 93 colored converts—40 men and 53 women—were baptized Sunday in the chilly waters of the Ohio river.

—A wonderful meeting has just closed at LaGrange with 92 additions, most of them by baptism. Bro. J. W. Porter aided Pastor Stout.—Western Recorder.

—Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage, Brooklyn's preacher is home again. He arrived in New York Saturday on the Paris after a six months' journey around the World.

—Five of the leaders of the sanctified band of scamps have been indicted at Onancock, Va., for conspiracy in separating wives from their husbands and for being a public nuisance.

—A preacher recently stopped in the middle of his sermon and sang a hymn. He explained: "If the members of the choir are to do the talking, they will certainly permit me to do the singing."

—Rev. B. Carradine, D. D., the noted St. Louis evangelist, will begin a meeting at the Methodist church with Rev. W. E. Arnold, Nov. 25th, and continue to Dec. 7. Dr. Carradine is a man of much talent and has made a great reputation as an evangelist.

—"Fifty years ago the Young Men's Christian Association was organized to counteract the influence of evil resorts. To day there are 5,000 associations and 500,000 members in the world, 1,400 associations and 250,000 members being in America."—Christian Herald.

—The revival at the Christian church here closed out with one addition. There may be a reason for that. Rev. Mr. Taylor, the revivalist imported from Louisville refused to preach if the organ was played as an accompaniment to the singing. Such crankiness as that may suit some choice congregation in Louisville, but it don't go here with either saint or sinner.—Mt. Vernon Eagle.

—Stanford will never go down like Sodom and Gomorrah because there are no holy men here, and if she and her entire population are not saved it will not be for a lack of "the foolishness of preaching." Three big meetings, the Barnes, the Christian and the Methodist quarterly meeting were all running at once, and sinners were offered salvation from as many standpoints.

—Elder W. E. Crabtree continues to preach with great power at the Christian church and his efforts are meeting with gratifying success. There are additions nightly and Sunday night witnessed the reception of five into the church. Fully 500 people gathered Sunday night, crowding every nook and space, many having to stand up. Great good has been accomplished with the members and sinners have been brought to realize their fearful condition. Mr. Crabtree has found his way to the hearts of many people, who will rise up and call him blessed. There was a possibility of the meeting closing last night, but the general hope was that it would not.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—A Chicago judge has decreed that all wedding presents go to the wife after divorce.

—It is reported that the king of Servia is to marry a daughter of Pullman Car Pullman. She gets a title. He is after money.

—Man may go from aversion to love; but when he has begun by loving and has reached aversion, he never returns to love.—Balzac.

—Tomorrow Mr. Albert Pitman, 21, and Miss Mollie Gibson, the same age, will be made one at Mr. Wm. Gibson's in this country.

—H. G. Ballard, an infant of 17, and Miss Minnie Kidd, 19, were married a few days ago at Hiram Kidd's. These are rather young kids to go into the business.

—Czar Nicholas has graciously announced to his millions of subjects that his pride, the Princess Alix, has been appointed, receiving the name of Alexandra Feodorovna with the title of Grand Duchess.

—Mrs. Cuthbert Bullitt, of Louisville, comes into notice again by bringing suit for divorce against her aged husband. The public hopes she will get it and that she will then retire to a convent and cease from troubling.

—Mr. J. A. Hendron, who was recently bereaved, has dried his tears and taken unto himself another wife. There is some excuse for haste in his case. He has several little children and no one to take care of them. The new wife was Mrs. Annie Kennell, a widow of 24, and a handsome woman. The marriage occurred at Mr. R. M. Monser's.

Buckwheat Arnica Salve.

The boat live in the world for cures, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions. It positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford, Ky.

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD KY., NOVEMBER 6, 1894

W. P. WALTON.

THE Czar of Russia, who ruled with iron hand over the lives and destinies of millions of men and was monarch of a sixth of the entire world's area, has himself succumbed after a losing fight with the tyrant death. There will be no tears shed over the death of a man who has without trial and without opportunity for self defense, condemned with cruel despotism thousands upon thousands of helpless men and women to the horrors and wastes of Siberia, in most instances to gratify whims of his own devilish will and did other fiendish acts that made living a mockery. It may be some consolation to those who have suffered and are still suffering from the mailed hand of the despot that his life was not over pathways strewed with flowers, for he has been dodging imaginary bullets from anarchist's pistols and fearing assassination ever since he ascended the throne in 1881. His father Alexander II was killed by a nihilist bomb and there was not a moment of the life of Alexander III free from dread and fear. He was comparatively a young man, having been born in 1845. The Czarevich, who succeeds to the throne under the title of Nicholas II and will rule over 100,000,000 people, is but 26 years old, but he is said to be a man of great learning and much common sense, his education being given with a view of his certainty to become Czar. He has it in his power to improve the state of affairs or to bring despotism into greater odium. It is likely, however, that clothed in his brief authority, he will like his predecessors cut such fantastic tricks as will make the angels weep.

THE political skies have greatly brightened in the last few days and if our whole ticket is not elected we are greatly mistaken in our estimate of our democratic countymen. We believe they will stand firm in the faith and vote for the best ticket ever offered. It is so incomparably better than the mongrel ticket the republicans have put up that we can not see how any man who has the interest of country at heart, much less his party, can do otherwise than vote it straight. It is only from the talk of disaffected democrats that the boss had the temerity to offer himself and his henchmen for public approval. Let such democrats lay aside all resentment, think only of principle and their plain duty and all will be well. As a parting word before we meet at the polls, we say: Democrats, gird on your armor and quit yourself like men and our next paper will bloom with crowning roosters.

REPORTS from the 11th district are most encouraging for the democracy. George Stone has made a magnificent canvass and created enthusiasm everywhere he has been, and we confidently expect to hear of his election. It is estimated that 30,000 votes will be cast and that Stone will receive 12,000, the two republican candidates dividing the other 18,000, so that neither will get a majority. Seven or eight of the county clerks have disregarded Judge Jones' injunction to put Colson's name under the eagle and his followers are all mixed up. Knowing democrats figure Stone's majority at 1,500, a good margin to play on, and shows the confidence that the situation has induced.

THE news from the 5th is not reassuring. In fact the election of Col. Walter Evans is so confidently predicted that we fear there is much grounds for it. The A. P. A.'s, that most detestable of organizations, is getting in its work because Mr. McDermott happens to be a Catholic. In the 7th, we do not think there is much danger for Owens, who will doubtless be elected by a good majority. The other districts, including our own 8th, seem to be sure shots. Let us all do our duty and put a quietus on republican claims and boasts.

U. S. JUDGE BARR holding court at Louisville, dismissed an indictment against a Maysville man for sending a dunning postal card. The scamps, who refuse to pay their honest debts, and then try to annoy their creditors by indicting them for sending postal cards reminding them of their indebtedness, are realizing that such occupation is gone. The man too mean to pay his debts is entitled to no consideration of men and ought not to have any recourse at law.

THE democrats in New York say Hill will be elected by 21,825 plurality. The republicans say Morton will be elected by 55,025 plurality. In this instance you can take your choice without paying your money.

The president has lowered himself in the estimation of all true democrats by not sinking private resentments and using his efforts for Senator Hill and the ticket. The Senator may have occasionally acted in variance with his declaration, "I am a democrat," and may have tried to embarrass Mr. Cleveland's administration as much as possible, but the democrats saw fit to nominate him for governor of the great State of New York, and it became the duty then of all democrats to support him. We have been an uncompromising Cleveland man and have been for him through thick and thin, but his sulking in camp when he might have done the party so much good, rather makes us feel that our idol is somewhat clay after all.

COL. W. O. BRADLEY, with the air of a conquering hero, returned Sunday from a tour of the 2d and 3d districts, in which he made speeches that made the eagle scream. He claims that the charge made in the Courier-Journal that he was afraid to meet Bill Ellis is a slander so pronounced as to be criminally libelous and says Capt. Ellis took the court-house from him at Hartford and he had to speak outside, although it was his appointment. After that he refused to meet a man who would treat him so.

THE republicans are making a death struggle for the next Congress, but impartial reports from all the States indicate that the democracy will still hold that body. Let every Kentucky democrat see that the old Commonwealth does not contribute any to republican success.

THE president and Secretary of State sent dolorous messages of sympathy over the death of the Russian Czar. That is the way such things are done, but we common people are glad to hear of the demise of a tyrant, be he ruler or a commander every day man.

It is said that at this time there are 22 ex-sovereigns residing in different parts of Europe, none of them in the countries they once ruled.

A great many of the popes have been forced into exile, generally by emperors among the turbulent Roman populace.

A few were restored, but most of them died in exile.

The Emperor Charles V lived in voluntary exile during the last years of his life. His chief occupation in his retirement was devising new viands to tempt his gluttonous appetite.

Ex-Empress Eugenie lives in England as the guest of Queen Victoria, who is her warm personal friend. She often goes to the continent and is said on one or two occasions to have visited Paris incognito.

After the downfall of Napoleon, his mother, Mme. Bonaparte, went to Blois and thence to Rome. She returned to France during the hundred days, and after Waterloo went back to Rome, where she died in 1836.

Isabella II of Spain was exiled by her long suffering people in 1870. She has since lived in Paris, and while in no means good repute with respectable people before she has been much less careful of her conduct since her enforced retirement from the throne.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

ODDS AND ENDS.

The best evidence goes to show that the pyramids of Egypt were royal sepulchers.

The officials of Korea wear upon their hats the figures of various birds and animals.

Among the Turks the bodies of the dead are held in extreme reverence, though the cemeteries are used as picnic grounds.

There are, says a New York newspaper, about 10 Afro-American lawyers in New York, 13 in Boston and more than 25 in Chicago.

The English sovereign's sons and grandsons, when created peers, are entitled to seats in the house of lords at the left of the throne.

One of the conditions of membership of a New York club is that each member must give at least one hour a week to doing some good action.

It is estimated that there are fully 66,000 negroes in the young territory of Oklahoma. Most of them are in Blaine and Logan counties.

Evaporation is two or three times greater in the sunshine than in the shade and five or six times as great in summer as in winter, is greater during a breeze than in a calm and is greater from fields of melting snow than from an equal surface of the ocean.

RAILROAD JOTTINGS.

Berlin is to have an elevated railroad like New York, with the difference that electricity is to be used as the motive power.

The Lake Shore Electric Railway company has been incorporated, with a capital of $10,000,000. The new line will run from Chicago to Milwaukee.

The Monterey and Mexican Gulf Railroad company has arranged with the Mexican government to extend the road from Trevino to Sierra Mojada, and thence to Mazatlan, on the Pacific coast.

All the employees of the Lehigh Traction company at Hazleton, Pa., are insured by the company. This is done in order to protect the men in case of any injury, or perhaps death, that they might sustain in an accident.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Mrs. PAULINE HAYS is visiting in Crab Orchard.

Mrs. JOE COFFEY went up to Livingston yesterday.

Mr. JOHN FROST, of Lexington, has been the guest of Mr. George B. Wearen.

Miss MAMIE LYNN, of Lincoln, is visiting Mrs. T. M. Thatcher. —Somerset Paragon.

Mr. J. M. REID is again very ill of heart disease, but was some better yesterday.

Mr. AND MRS. E. B. CALDWELL will move to the house vacated by Mrs. Julia Hughes.

CAPT. WILLIAM GEER tells us that Cumberland Gap tunnel is caving in badly again.

Mrs. J. T. JOHNSON, of Louisville, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Rout.

Mr. E. W. JONES, of Pineville, one of the best democrats in the mountains, was here Sunday.

Mr. J. P. CROW returned from the northwest Sunday, where he has been in business.

MISS MAGGIE LEWIS, of Buckeye, spent a few days with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Lewis.

MR. JOHN BELL GIBSON, who had been the guest of Mrs. S. J. Embry, went to Cincinnati Saturday.

MR. AND MRS. R. H. LOGAN are now comfortably located at their pretty home on Rush Branch pike.

MRS. MARY W. BOWMAN and Master Horace Bowman, of Danville, are visiting at Mr. Forestus Reid's.

MRS. MARY J. WEAVER and Mrs. Sallie Shipman, of Hustonville, were the guests of Mrs. P. W. Green.

MR. GEORGE R. WATERS has engaged with the wholesale house of B. Weiss & Co., Cincinnati, as traveling salesman.

WILL J. YEAGER, of Louisville, was up Sunday to see his sweetheart, who has nearly recovered from a spell of sickness.

MISS KATIE LEE YEAGER, of Boyle, is the guest of Miss Addie Hale, and as a consequence one of our force is very happy.

MR. SAM MAGEE was here yesterday and informed us that the democratic ticket would come out all right at Crab Orchard.

MR. JAMES ROBINSON went to Middleboro Saturday to visit her sons, James, Jake and Will Robinson, who are in business there.

The sick are all improving, though Mr. H. C. Farris is making slow progress. Miss Nettie Wray is better and so is Dwight Root.

MRS. VIRGINIA BOWMAN is visiting her cousins in Louisville and the newspapers pay her beauty and qualities of mind and heart high compliments.

J. S. KENNEDY, of Richmond, continues to journey towards Hustonville, and the indications are that we shall have to record the marriage of another beauty of that village of beautiful women.

MISS MARY AND FRANCES ADAMS gave a delightful entertainment at their home at Hustonville Saturday night in honor of Misses Martha Paxton Rout and Isabella Owsley. About 20 couples enjoyed it.

HON. J. BOYLE STONE, of Liberty, was here Friday. He is very hopeful of his brother George's election and thinks he has a splendid chance to be the next Congressman from the 11th.

MR. SAMUEL H. REID and Misses Jessie and Kate Cook, of Hustonville, were down Sunday to see Mrs. E. C. Walton and little Lucy Lee. The latter remains alarmingly ill, though the doctors think the crisis has past.

A LETTER from Harlan Court-house states that a few evenings ago Judge R. Boyd, of London, Ky., who was out speaking for Mr. Colson, fell from a second-story porch and received injuries which may prove fatal.

MR. R. G. WILLIAMS, of the Law Department of Centre College, was here yesterday, but he will be in Mt. Vernon to-day, not only to put it under the rooster, but to work that others may do so. Dick is a democrat from Awayback.

MR. AND MRS. G. C. KELLER, Jr., arrived from Washington yesterday. Mr. Keller came to vote for Gov. McCreary and our excellent ticket. He came 800 miles to do so. It is a very poor democrat who won't go a mile or two to aid us in the present struggle.

MR. L. D. SAMSON, of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette editorial staff, who has been writing up the Congressional races in the close districts of Tennessee and Kentucky, was here Saturday en route to his old home at Barbourville to vote. Mr. Sampson has both a lucrative and important position on the great paper and we are glad to observe that he is holding it with credit. He tells us that our old friend, Walter P. Emerson, late of Louisville, is doing the local political reporting for the same paper and stands very high in the confidence of the management.

FOR TEACHERS.—I am in receipt of notice that the State treasurer will not be able to pay the 20 per cent. school fund due in November, but will pay 40 per cent. by December. W. F. McClary, supt.

J. MAC HUBBLE, formerly of the McKinney section, has bought of T. V. Terrell his stock of goods at Woodstock and will launch for a merchant. Mr. Ferrill has rented the Popplewell Hotel at Somerton and will take charge Dec. 1.

D. BRYANT, a brakeman on the South and local, whose home is at Livingston, had his thumb and fore finger cut off and his hand mashed while coupling cars, and came here Friday to have Dr. Peaton to give them necessary attention.

TO PAINTERS.—Sealed bids for painting Mt. Xenia school-house will be received at the school-house at noon, Thursday, Nov. 8. A member of the committee will be on hand to give specifications of the work to be done. D. B. Stagg, of committee.

CULHANE'S MINSTRELS at Walton's Opera House, Wednesday, Nov. 7th. This attraction comes here flushed from their week's engagement at Indianapolis, giving the most meritorious and compact minstrel ever seen in this city. The singing is first-class, as also are the novelities.

BLUFFED.—"I'll bet you $1,000 that I get 17,000 votes next Tuesday," said Hon. David G. Colson to an I. J. man Friday as he stood on the platform of a passing train. "We called him," and in our anxiety to get some of the magic city's magnate's money, we tried to drag him from the train, but he plead pressing business and went his way a beaten and a bluffed bluf.

MR. F. B. TWIDWELL is waking things up at Hustonville. He was here a day or two ago and engaged space in this paper to tell his people that hereafter they will not have to go elsewhere than to his store to get drugs, medicines, fancy groceries, silverware, &c., at prices that can not be duplicated anywhere. He is going to have a full stock of holiday goods. Save your money and buy of him.

THE trial of Will Hale for the murder of George Pennington occupied the court from Thursday till Saturday night, the jury being discharged at 10 o'clock, unable to agree. They stood four for capital punishment, seven for terms of 2 to 21 years and 1 for acquittal. There was a good deal of cross swearing in the case. The prisoners and his crowd proved that Pennington shot first and when Hale was expostulating with him, but the preponderance of the evidence was that Hale had not only fired the first shot, but had done so maliciously and without cause. The argument occupied the whole of Saturday and all of the speeches were good. The prosecution, through Messrs. J. B. Paxton and J. S. Owsley, Jr., plead for capital punishment, while Messrs. W. H. Miller and Harvey Helm could not do much more than plead for mercy. They are therefore more than pleased with a hung jury. The court was not in session yesterday, having adjourned for the election till Wednesday.

The grand jury finally adjourned Friday, after returning 40 indictments; nothing was found against Ed Simpson for shooting Bob Whitley, but an examining court will investigate the case.

TWO cottages on Whitley Avenue for rent at $6 each per month. Miller & Helm.

WALK in take a cup of coffee with Will Wearen to-day. He asks you in big type to "come."

FOR $3,000 and $5,000 accident tickets at 25¢ per day call on J. H. Kirby, the insurance man.

VOTE early and vote straight by putting the X under the rooster. That's all that is necessary for a genuine democratic vote.

IT is all over but the voting. Democrats be true to yourselves and cast your ballot for the whole ticket, so that we may shout to-night.

NEW sorghum, pickles, evaporated fruits, raisins, currants, prunes, rice, oatmeal, cracked wheat, all new goods, at Higgins & McKinney's.

FOR horse blankets, lap robes, double or single harness, saddles, bridles, or any kind of horse goods, go to Yeager & Yeager, the livery men.

SEE the novel street parade of Culhane's Minstrels Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and you will be sure to attend the performance at Walton's Opera House that night.

THE Centre College foot ball club defeated the Louisville Athletic Club on their own grounds Saturday 24 to 4. The Louisville mob was very disorderly and treated the visitors very ungentlemanly.

YESTERDAY was as dreary a day as ever came in bleak November. Snow clouds obscured the sky and a searching north wind made outdoor operations exceedingly disagreeable. The weather dispatch said there would be a heavy frost last night and colder to-day.

IT ought not to be necessary to remind democrats of their duty to-day. All true ones will remain steadfast to the faith and not do that which they will ever afterwards be ashamed. Vote the straight ticket by putting your X under the rooster, like we have on another page.

THEIR is, we think, little danger of the defeat of any of our ticket but Mr. Givens. The reason of this is not that Mr. Givens is not worthy of the office and competent to fill it, but the republicans, at the dictation of the boss, will do anything to elect their man for this office. Democrats, we appeal to you to avert the calamity that the election of such a man as Boss Davison would produce. Vote for Givens and the full ticket.

A SWEET CROWD.—The Danville Advocate's Hustonville correspondent tells of a negro love feast there the other night and says: Lawyer Davison, of Stanford, a negro doctor from somewhere and Ben Alford, of Stanford, made fiery, untamed speeches to the colored brother, in which they promised him everything save the 40 acres and mule. It was a lovely crowd and they had a lovely time. These back-alley fellows ought not to be trusted with public office, and they certainly will not be in Lincoln county.

COMPROMISED.—The following item got us marked in the Dallas, Texas Times-Herald: "The suit of James Guthrie vs. R. M. and C. W. Gano, and the damage suits of the Ganos vs. Guthrie in the United States circuit court at Dallas have been settled by a compromise. Guthrie receives $10,000 of his claim and the balance, $16,500, is allowed the Ganos for damages. Guthrie withdraws the charges made in his affidavit for attachment and admits they were erroneous or untrue when made."

THE V. A. M. Literary Society kept open house at the college Saturday afternoon and a large number accepted invitations to attend. The program was both enjoyable and meritorious and all who were present went away much pleased. President Miss Ethyl Beazley presided very gracefully and Miss Mattie Hopper, the secretary, performed her duties admirably. She also sang a solo, "Over the Stars there is Rest," in a very excellent manner. Miss Mattie Cash recited nicely, Miss Alice Baughman read a selection from an article by J. R. Lowell in a sweetly modulated voice and Miss Adele Saufay read a beautiful essay on "Some Applications of the Golden Rule." Then came a solo by Miss Mary Cowen, who sang in a charming manner "Astohore." She has a voice as clear and sweet as a bird's and the song fairly electrified the audience. She also rendered a difficult piano solo with a master hand. Miss May Hughes, the elocution teacher, in costume, recited "The Marriage of the Flowers," a portion of it in minuet, and it was most beautifully and gracefully done. It was the first exhibition of her highly cultivated talent here and she won both encomiums and applause. Miss Beazley then thanked the audience for its interest and attention and the very pleasant exercise were brought to a close by Rev. W. E. Ellis, who pronounced the benediction.

MR. ALBERT S. WALLACE, who has been voting the democratic ticket since the days of Van Buren, tells us that he is going to put his X under the rooster again to-day. Fine example. Go thou and follow it.

THESE seems to be some doubt in the minds of voters about the proper way to mark their ballots. If you want to vote the straight democratic ticket, you have only to put the cross under the rooster where we have in another column. It will not be necessary then to mark in the squares opposite the names of the candidates. The cross immediately under the rooster does the business. Put it there and let the game chicken do the scratching if any is to be done. If you attempt to make both.

Boss DAVISON, who sneaked around in the knobs and told the people that he would pay them for working the county roads if elected county judge, had the wind taken out of his sails by a card from James Walker Givens, who had caught on to his little game, saying that he had for years been for paying men a reasonable amount to work roads. This brought the fly-by-night candidate from cover and he issued a circular saying he had forced Mr. Givens to the position he had taken, but that he was really against what he claimed to be, for as he was a turnpike president. Unhappily as he is himself to acting openly and fairly, the boss can see nothing but hypocrisy in others. He can not make good a single promise with which he has duped those who do not know better, and it is passing strange that such a man as he is known to be can fool sensible people. We are authorized to say that the road law passed by a democratic legislature will be administered by a democratic fiscal court and that the poor people will be given its full benefits for work done.

NO LONGER DOWNTROdden.
But the Cook Showed Her Power Just the Same.

They liked living in the suburbs, oh, so much better than in town. The railroad ride was really beneficial to health, and had they not gathered three roses from the bush in the front yard last summer? Still there was a serpent in their Eden, and this serpent was the hired girl—or the lack of her. So when the new one proved to be a treasure life indeed put on a rosy hue to the young Flutterley.

One evening, however, on coming home Mr. Flutterley saw a tiny crease on his wife's brow which even the perfection of the soup failed to drive away.

"Is—it the cook?" he faltered after the roast, a sight to tempt an anchorite, had been brought on.

"Oh, no. She seems quite satisfied," replied his wife in a tepid tone. "But, Chesterfield, don't you think that in time I might learn to cook as well as she does?"

"For your second husband perhaps, my dear. I really don't believe that I could survive much more experimenting."

"Oh, Chesterfield, how can you!" "Only a joke, my love, a mere joke. Still I think that I could be willing to put the cook's young man up at my club, to allow her weekly reception days—anything to retain her services. But how about your political work? Does Mrs. Van Smith still talk of bolting the ticket?"

"Yes, indeed. She says that her conscience will not allow her to vote for a woman who wears such atrocious bonnets as our candidate does. Still I hope we have mended matters by putting her on the reception committee at our 5 o'clock tea rally."

"I should hope so indeed."

"Yes. Oh, how glad I am that woman is no longer the poor, downtrodden creature she has ever been!"

"Humph! Have you been out on your bicycle today?"

"Yes, and, oh, Chesterfield, a horrid man made such remarks concerning my bloomers! However, I just passed him by in silent scorn. The time has gone by when woman will be dictated to and terrorized out of doing what she knows to be right."

"Well, well! And so the members of your ward club intend to ride up to the pole in bloomers to cast their votes?"

"Yes. Will it not be a splendid victory for the advancement of woman and the casting off of old shackles? Oh, Chesterfield, what shall I do if I have to give it all up?"

"Give it up! Why, I don't object."

"Humph! I should think not, but—cook! She—oh, Chesterfield, she says that she will never cook another beefsteak in this house unless I vote for her candidate!"—Chicago Tribune.

Dangerous.

"Look at these bottles," said a well known druggist. "Do you notice anything peculiar about them?"

He pointed to an assortment of bottles that were about to be packed up for a customer. Each one bore a label marked in plain letters "Poison." There were also death's heads and crossbones beneath the labels. The bottles were of all sizes and sorts.

"What does it mean? Wholesale suicide—hey?"

"Not by any means. Those are the toilet essences of a young woman of fashion. They are prescriptions for the complexion, sleeping drafts, tinctures, and that large bottle is plain ammonia, but we must mark them all so that in case a juvenile in the family should drink of their contents a coroner's jury would exonerate us. See?"

"Alas," murmured the other man as he gazed on the deadly assortment, "to this complexion have we come at last!" and he gave an inward thanksgiving that he was still a bachelor.—Detroit Free Press.

His Idea.

"Were you in the fight?" asked an officer of an elderly negro on a steamer after taking a fort.

"Had a little taste of it, sah."

"Stood your ground, did you?"

"No, sah. I runs."

"Run at the first fire, did you?"

"Yes, sah. Would have run sooner if I had known it was comin."

"Why, that is not very creditable to your courage."

"Dat isn't my line, sah—cookin my perfeshun."

"Well, but have you no regard for your reputation?"

"Reputation's nothin to me by the side of life."

"Do you consider your life worth more than other peoples?"

"It's worth more to me, sah."—Exchange.

Precisely.

"Grandpa, what does 'D. F.' mean?"
"Nowadays, my boy, it means a young man who is quite 'smart.' —Life.
